Qualified and experienced staff

Deaf Presenters

Quality Control and Monitoring

Professional (broadcast quality work to industry standards)

“Most people don't realise that for many Deaf people English is their second language. You would be amazed at the difference it can make to a Deaf person when the information they receive has been transcribed into BSL”

Lilian Lawson OBE

Director, Scottish Council on Deafness

Information

OUR SERVICE

For many deaf* people communication is the biggest hurdle they face in everyday life. We have a team of experienced deaf presenters and translators who can help you to make your information accessible.

The term deaf includes those who are deafened, deafblind and hard of hearing.*

Our team of dedicated staff can help you to reach your deaf and hard of hearing customers by ensuring your information is accessible and available in British Sign Language (BSL).

HOW WE CAN HELP

Do you, or your organisation

Provide information to the public?

Have a website?

Want to make your service inclusive?

If so, we can provide the following, to ensure your message and information is fully accessible to deaf people.

DVD Leaflets

We can either provide experienced Presenters and Translators to work with you and your media team, or we can use our in house multimedia services to develop and produce your information onto DVD in BSL, with subtitles and voice-over.

Websites

We can help you or your organisation to make your website accessible with information in British Sign Language. For an example of what we can offer, visit our website: www.deafaction.org.

Other Multimedia

Our team can also help with video podcasts in Sign Language, translation of letters and documents into BSL - get in touch to discuss your requirements.

Deaf Action have worked with many groups on multimedia work, such as:

- Health Scotland
- Highland Council
- NHS Highland
- NHS Lothian
- NHS Borders
- The Scottish Parliament
- The Scottish Government
